Coping with the challenges

arising from the COVID-19 pandemic has not been easy. Implications of COVID-19 have made us realize the new normal way to do things. The new teaching and learning model of work-based learning has well prepared you for the job market. Traditional career patterns are breaking down and no longer the predominant pattern. As the implementation of work-based learning in our institution it helps to enhance the student learning experience by expanding industry collaboration in the design and delivery of programmes; increasing the use of experiential and service learning to develop multi skills, and leveraging technology-enabled models to enable more personalised learning to meet the objectives of holistic, talented, and balanced graduates. With proven results and outcomes, we also would like to thank international companies such as Boardroom, International audit firm, listed companies, KL Kepong and many more which open their doors welcoming our graduands to build their career successfully with them.
